

College Admissions

Common Sense Answers to Commonly Asked Questions

Anne Holmdahl

Common Sense College Counseling

OFFERED TWICE (same information shared at both events):

Friday, November 15th | 6 – 7:30 p.m. AND

Tuesday, November 19th | Noon – 1:30 P.M.

Lake Washington Resource Center

(16250 NE 74th St Redmond)

No RSVP required.

“Should I trust my neighbor’s advice about college?” Come find out from Anne!

It is a pleasure to invite Anne Holmdahl back to speak to parents in the Lake Washington School District! Anne is an independent college counselor and has provided college counseling to hundreds of students in the Seattle area for almost a decade. She helps them navigate the path through high school and guides them through the vast universe of college applications. Anne graduated from Stanford University (yes, she bleeds Cardinal), then later completed the UCLA College Counseling Certificate program with distinction, and is a member of the professional organizations NACAC, PNACAC, HECA and IECA (professional member). She regularly visits colleges, attends conferences, and participates in professional development opportunities.

Sponsored by the Lake Washington PTSA Council and paid for by the LWSD. For questions or for more information, contact Irene Neumann, Chair, Parent Ed, at parent.ed@lwptsa.net.